applicable accounting, tax and law provisions. The legal basis for this processing is the compliance with legal obligations.

To send essential information concerning your account and your use of Alientech products and services. We use your email to send you important information about the status of your account (for example, if some services you are subscribed to are about to expire or if they are temporarily unavailable due to extraordinary maintenance on our servers or on our information network), the security of Alientech products and services or changes to this privacy Disclosure. The legal basis for this processing is Alientech srl legitimate interest to inform you about your account and services you have enabled, and to protect the integrity of our information systems against security threats.

To let you interact with customer support operators. We may use your e-mail address or telephone number, as well as your name and / or postal address, to assist you in case you need help in using software or tools or need technical support on Alientech products and services. The legal basis for this processing is the execution of the agreement that you concluded with Alientech srl when you accepted the terms and conditions of use of Alientech services, and the compliance with legal obligations regarding statutory warranties and assistance to the consumer.

To obtain information on the use of our tools and software, and to improve the quality of our tools and services. We collect user data relating to the use of our tools and software. The types of analytical information collected include the date and time of access of the tool to our servers, the software version, the IP address of the Internet service provider used to connect the tool, the setting of the language, the information and the files managed by the tool, user behavior (for example, the functions used, the frequency of use etc.), information on the computer, the operating system and peripherals used and information relating to the tool's operating mode. For these purposes we do not use third party tools.

This technical data may be used to process information, including statistical information, necessary for the supply of technical support, for the development and supply of updates and other services relating to our software and products, in order to improve the quality and functionality of our software and / or tools or to provide new services or technologies. The legal basis for this processing is Alientech srl's legitimate interest to improve the quality and safety of our products and services provided to users.

User data relating to the use of our tools and services may be used to process information, including statistical information, necessary to improve or correct our products and services, thus contributing to the quality of our tools and services. The legal basis for this processing is Alientech srl's legitimate interest in the quality and safety of our products and services provided to users.

To prevent or assess unlawful conduct, to protect and enforce our rights. For example, we may use your data to prevent or prosecute illicit acts and infringements of our or third party intellectual / industrial property rights, or to prevent or prosecute cybercrimes or crimes committed through computer networks. The legal basis for such processing is the legitimate interest of Alientech srl to protect our rights and prevent criminal offences.

To receive newsletters from Alientech srl. After obtaining your consent, you may receive from Alientech srl e-mail communications with promotional and / or informative content about our products and services. The legal basis for this processing is your consent. You can revoke your consent at any time by clicking “Unsubscribe” in the e-mail you received or by sending a request to info@alientech.to.

To obtain information on the use of the website. When you browse our website, even when you do so without being registered or having logged in, the software procedures and the computer system controlling the functioning of the web applications acquire, during their normal operation, some data whose transmission is implicit in the use of Internet communication protocols.

To carry out analytics statistics on the use of the website. Analytical tools are used to detect user behavior on our website, to improve the user experience and monitor the pages you visit, access time, frequency and duration of visits, links you click on and other actions that you make when using our services.

The legal reason for processing this analytical information is Alientech srl’s legitimate interest in understanding how customers interact with our website, so we can enhance the user experience and functionality of our website.

6. Processing methods

In accordance with the purposes indicated above, your personal data may be processed as follows:

- Entrusting processing operations to third parties;
- Processed by using electronic means;
- Manual processing by means of paper archives.

Each treatment is carried out in compliance with the procedures referred to in articles 6 and 32 of the GDPR, through the adoption of the appropriate security measures provided as to ensure the security and confidentiality of the data.

7. With whom we share your data

With our employees. Your data will be shared exclusively with competent and duly appointed and trained subjects for carrying out the services necessary for the correct management of your relationship, with a guarantee of protection of your rights.

With service suppliers. Your data may be disclosed to third parties, for one or more of the purposes described above, in particular to: shippers, carriers, transporters, post offices, logistics companies, public and / or private entities for which data communication is mandatory or necessary in fulfillment of legal obligations or functional to the administration of the relationship, consultants and independent contractors - even in associated form - banks, credit institutions and payment service providers.

With service providers. Alientech srl uses third-party services (cloud, analysis, messaging, website browsing functionalities) that operate as data processors pursuant to agreements in compliance with art. 28 GDPR and in accordance with the provisions relating to the transfer of data to third countries, where such data are actually transferred. These subjects acquire only the personal data necessary to fulfil their functions and may use them only for the purpose of performing these services on our behalf or to comply with the law.

With Alientech srl' commercial partners. Your data useful only for commercial purposes could be transmitted to our commercial partners, residing within or outside the European Economic Area. These commercial partners are appointed External Managers for Data Processing or have entered into standard contractual clauses with Alientech for the protection of personal data.

With judicial or administrative authorities. Where we believe we have to do so to comply with an order from the judge or an authority, or to comply with legal obligations or in order to protect us or third parties judicially, we may disclose your data to the Judicial Authority or to a Governmental Agency in Italy or the European Union.

8. Disclosure of your data

Your personal data will not be disclosed in any other way.

9. Data retention period

We inform you that, in compliance with the principles of lawfulness, limitation of purposes and minimization of data, pursuant to art. 5 of the GDPR, the retention period of your personal data is:

- Established for a period of time not exceeding the achievement of the purposes for which your data are collected and processed and in compliance with mandatory deadlines;
- Prescribed by law.

10. Your rights

Pursuant to Articles 15, 16, 17, 18, 19, 20, 21, 22 of the GDPR, in addition to managing your preferences on the processing of your personal data in accordance with the previous paragraphs, you can contact Alientech srl to:

- Obtain confirmation of the existence or nonexistence of your personal data, even if not yet recorded, and their communication in an intelligible form;
- Request access to your personal data, updating, rectification or integration of your personal data;
- Request erasure, transformation into anonymous form and limitation of the processing of your data;
- Object, for legitimate reasons, to the processing of your personal data, even if pertinent to the purpose for which they were collected;
- Ask for the portability or copy of your data;
- Revoke consent, at any time, to the processing of your data for the purpose of sending advertising materials or direct selling or for carrying out market research or commercial communication (this will not affect the lawfulness of the treatment based on the consent given before of the revocation);
- Ask for the identification details of the data controller, the managers and the designated representative, as well as information about the subjects or categories of subjects authorized to process your data, the external data processors and those in charge.

When you exercise the right of access, you also have the right to know:

- If the processing of your data is underway;
- What are the purpose and the methods of processing;
- What are the categories of processed data;
- The retention period of your data (or the criteria for determining the retention period);
- If an automated processing is underway (e.g. by profiling) and what is the logic of such processing;

- The origin of the data (if not collected initially by us).

You have the right to lodge a complaint with the Authority for the Protection of Personal. To this end, you can find the appropriate form on the website www.garanteprivacy.it.
